He said "I have nothing else to live for. I can't go on," then the sound of a gunshot. After listening to the cassette tape, the police knew that it was not a suicide. How did they know?

A: If the person died then who pressed the reverse button.

Q: A Japanese ship was en route to the open sea. The captain went for a shower removing his ring and keeping it on the table. When he returned, he found it had gone missing. The captain immediately called the three suspected crew members and asked each one where they were and what were they doing in the last 15 minutes.

The cook said, "I was in fridge room getting meat for cooking."

The Engineer , "I was working on generator engine."

The seaman said, "I was on the mast correcting the flag which was upside down by mistake."

The radio officer said, "I was messaging to a company about the arrival"

The navigation officer said, "I was sleeping in my cabin."

The captain immediately caught the thief. How?

A: It's Japanese ship so it has a Japanese flag and Japanese flag is the same upside down.

Q: Every day, a man used to cross the border on a bicycle with two bags of sand. The border officers got a tip that he is a smuggler. So the customs officers checked his and found they had only sand. As they could not find any evidence, they allowed him to cross the border. So, what was the man smuggling?

A: He was smuggling bicycles.

Q: Two girls ate dinner together. They both ordered iced tea. One girl drank them very fast and had finished five in the time it took the other to drink just one. The girl who drank one died while the other survived. All of the drinks were poisoned. How did the girl who drank the most survive?

A: The poison was in the ice.

Q: A lonely old man lived in his house in the suburb of a city. He never left the house for long. It was a midsummer Friday when the mailman walked by and called out for the man. There was no answer. The mailman looked into the window and saw him in a pool of blood. When the policeman arrived, he found Tuesday's newspaper, 2 bottles of warm milk, and 1 bottle of cold milk. The next day, the killer was arrested. How did the police find out who it was so quickly?

A: It was obviously the mailman. He knew that no one in this house would read a newspaper on Wednesday or Thursday.

Q: A serial killer kidnapped people and made them take 1 of 2 pills: one was harmless, and the other was poisonous. Whichever pill a victim took, the serial killer took the other one. The victim took their pill with water and died. The killer survived. How did the killer always get the harmless pill?

A: Both of the pills were harmless. The poison was in the glass of water the victim drank.

Q: A security guard stands at a door. A lady comes up, the security guard says 1, the lady says 3, and the security guard lets her in the door. Then a man comes up to the security guard, the security guard says 3 the man says 5, and the security guard lets the man in. Another man comes up and the security guard says 5, the man says 7 and they throw the man in prison. Why?

A: Because the man should of said 4, because there are 4 letters in in the number 5 f-i-v-e, there are 3 letters in the number 1 o-n-e, and 5 letters in the number 3, t-h-r-e-e.
